

I just finished off a song that had been hanging around unfinished for a long, long time. Possibly from 1993! It is funny how that goes. I hope to record this one soon.

It is a good example of my philosophy to link different experiences and ideas, from different times and people, into one song. It makes the song richer - more complex and interesting, at least to me. There is a line in here that I just love! Perhaps a little harsh for me. ;-)

Someone to Run To

G Em Bm
I waited for your answer but I just don't think you'll call.
C G D
You don't seem to call me anymore
G Em Bm
How many times have I waited there in the dark?
C D G
And listened for your sound outside my door?
C G
Tell me no lies, baby, and I'll do the same for you
Em C
How come you told me, you really loved me
D
Then you turned and walked away?
C G Em C D
I just wanted to love you, but you don't share that point of view
G Em G Em C D Em
Baby, whooo baby, you just wanted someone to run to.

Its been 7 lonely days and 7 long lonely nights
I kept trying to get a message through
You never heard me calling out in the night
You never saw the tears I cried for you.
Tell me again how hard it was for you to be moving on.
How come you told me, he didn't matter,
But you ran back into his arms.
You just wanted a lover, but I don't share that point of view.
Baby, whooo baby, you just wanted someone to run to.

C
Bridge: Oh I guess I thought I was different,
G
From all the others that came before
Em
Ahh but just like them,
C
I'm a long lost friend,
D
another fool coming back for me.

Tell me now baby did it ever cross your mind?
That one of the lovers you have won or lost
Could have been the one who stole your heart, and you didn't even notice it was gone.

Tell me again how much you need me in your life

But how come whenever, we are together,
you can only talk of him?

I just wanted to love you, but you don't share that point of view

Baby, whooo baby, you just wanted someone to run to.
